Friendswood mourns loss of local legend

By JIM FOREMAN
Reporter News Publisher

Friendswood Historian and longtime resident Joycina Baker passed away peacefully on Sunday morning at 94 years of age. Her legacy of faith, family, and education will be forever remembered by the community she loved so dearly.

After graduating college, Baker settled in Friendswood in 1948 with her husband, Jim Baker. Together they opened the Baker Food Market which remained in operation well into the 1980s.

Since then, Baker worked tirelessly to preserve and promote local history through the Friendswood Historical Society, the Galveston County Historical Commission, and the Texas State Historical Society. She also worked with Friendswood ISD to educate 2nd and 3rd grade students with her "Trunk Lady" traveling history lessons and Brown Museum tours.

In 1995, as Friendswood celebrated its Centennial, Baker published her book, Friendswood - A Settlement of Friendly Folks, which chronicles the city's history all the way back to the murder of Green Butler in 1872 on the land that would later become Stevenson Park.

In 2012, Baker championed the effort to install 7 historical markers throughout Friendswood and the following year she was appointed Official Historian of Friendswood.

"I, like many Friendswoodians, was deeply saddened over the news of Joyce Baker's passing," said Mayor Mike Foreman. "Joyce was our official City Historian and a true Friendswood Legend. I will miss her stories about how our community began and how it evolved into the great place it is today. Mostly, I will miss her friendship."

In recognition of her contributions and the wealth of knowledge and history that she has preserved, a room at the Friendswood Public Library has been officially dedicated as the Joycina Baker Community Room. The library is also working with the Friendswood Historical Society to digitize her entire collection of documents and photographs and publish them online at <https://friendswood.omeka.net>.

A Personal Note from the Publisher...

I was first introduced to Joyce Baker in 2013 when I volunteered to build a website for the historical society. Admittedly, I knew very little about our history back then. She never held that against me, though. In fact, I think she relished the opportunity to share her knowledge with a new pupil. And I've been enamored with those stories ever since.

I mention this because I want to highlight my favorite part of Joyce's legacy. You see, the Reporter News has been around for nearly 40 years, but we were not the first newspaper in Friendswood. That distinction belongs to the Baker Bulletin, a weekly newspaper published from 1954 to 1966 by Joyce Baker herself.

Written on a mechanical typewriter and adorned with hand-drawn graphics, the Baker Bulletin was available for free at Baker Food Market and in every post office box. On one side, readers would find all the specials of the week for the local grocer, and on the other were all manner of announcements submitted by Friendswood residents. Little league practice, tax filing reminders, school announcements, even classified ads were common occurrences in the bulletin. You can see many examples of the Baker Bulletin on the Library's digital archive at <https://friendswood.omeka.net>.

I also want to encourage you to pick up a copy of Joyce's book, Friendswood - A Settlement of Friendly Folks. I know you will love it because, frankly, if you weren't the nostalgic type you probably wouldn't be reading a newspaper.

Keller named Pearland ISD's Executive Director of Elementary Education

Pearland Independent School District welcomes Marlo Keller as its Executive Director of Elementary Education.

Keller has served as Pearland ISD's 504/Dyslexia Specialist since 2019 and has over 22 years of experience in education, with 19 of those dedicated to the district. She joined Pearland ISD in 2002 as a special education teacher at Challenger Elementary where she taught for two years, served as an AP and principal at Lawhon Elementary from 2004 to 2010, and then as a principal at Shadycrest Elementary from 2010 to 2013.

KELLER

Prior to her current position in the district which supports all 23 campuses, Keller provided educational consulting and training services to Pearland ISD and other surrounding districts, while also serving on several district PTA executive boards and working as an administrative substitute.

"My vision is to empower, challenge, support and celebrate our elementary campus leaders through effective communication and a relational approach to leadership," she said. "These past few years have been challenging. Our district's incredibly hard-working principals have led campuses through unprecedented times. They went into leadership for a reason and now is the perfect time for them to be reminded of that. I want to assist in reigniting their passion for leadership and building a collaborative support network with their elementary principal colleagues. Passionate principals inspire teachers to provide the best educational environments possible for all learners."

Keller holds a master's degree in Educational Psychology and a bachelor's degree in Elementary Education, both from Texas A&M University. She looks forward to being purposeful about setting up systems to build the capacity of both current and future leaders in Pearland ISD and to motivating other elementary leaders to do the same.

"I love all things elementary and inspiring others. I have been blessed with a variety of professional experiences and incredible mentors that have supported my professional growth throughout my career. I can't wait to be able to return the favor and watch our elementary leaders and teachers shine," she said.

OBITUARY

Baker

Joycina was born to parents Samuel Lyle Day and Emma Ellen Day (nee Munday), in Wichita, Kansas on Dec. 15, 1928.

Joycina was the oldest of 5 children in her immediate family (Uthona, Bonnie, Coleera and Sam), with two half-sisters (Mary an Elva) by her father from a previous marriage.

She attended Wichita High School East, and then Friends University, pursuing a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, graduating with honors in English. During her time at Friends University, she met Jim Baker from Friendswood, Texas.

After courting Joycina for some time, Jim won her heart, and they married at Mt. Zion Methodist Church on June 12, 1949.

After graduation, Jim took his new bride back to Friendswood, Texas. Upon arriving at her new home, she very proudly became a Texan by choice, and quickly took to her new community centered around the Friends Church.

Within the course of two years, they built a home, began the process of establishing Friendswood's first true supermarket, and were expecting their first child.

Baker's Lucky 7 Supermarket had its grand opening on July 26, 1952 and quickly became a central focus point for the entire community as they not only sold groceries, but Joycina took the helm of Friendswood's first newspaper, "The Baker Bulletin". She published a weekly newsletter that not only reported on the local happenings, but also the weekly specials on meat, produce and provisions.

By 1959, they had 4 children. Mark, Dayla, Wesley and Matthew.

As husband and wife, Jim and Joycina conducted their business with an honesty and integrity that is rarely seen in modern times. They became known as fair and generous employers, providing work for the local high school kids and keeping the community fed.

Sticking to their convictions, and going against the norm for the day, they refused to sell alcohol or tobacco. Despite that, a loyal customer base kept them in business for 30 years.

After the closing of Baker's supermarket, Joycina found herself drawn to a meaningful new project that combined her passion for the City of Friendswood with her passion for writing.

Over the course of nearly a decade, Joycina researched the families and the founders of Friendswood compiling a detailed history of her chosen hometown. By the time she finished her exhaustive research project, she'd put together a decade by decade account of Friendswood, from the time of its founding through the mid 1990's. Her book titled, "Friendswood: A Settlement of Friendly Folks" was published just in time for Friendswood's centennial celebration.

During this time, she became active with the Friendswood Historical Society and the Galveston County Historical Commission. She was also instrumental in making the Brown museum what it is today. She is responsible for the placement of several historical markers, including the Quaker Settlement Sites, throughout the city commemorating many of the significant sites and events were detailed in her book.

Joycina received many awards and accolades over the years, Official City Historian (2013) and Friendswood Legend (2019), just to name a few. In 2018 she received the Key to the City on her 90th birthday from Mayor Mike Foreman.

Joycina was a gifted story teller. But one of her favorite pastimes was listening to other people's stories. With 4 children, 6 grandchildren, 1 great grandchild, and 2 great-great grandchildren, her favorite stories centered around the lives and accomplishments of her family, which she considered to be her greatest legacy.

Visitation will be held Friday, June 10, 2022 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Jeter Funeral Home, 311 N. Friendswood Dr. in Friendswood. The service will be held on Saturday, June 11, 2022 at 10 a.m. in the morning at Friends Church, 502 S. Friendswood Dr., and will be streaming live.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Friendswood Historical Society, P.O. Box 474, Friendswood, Texas 77549.

FAITH MATTERS

NATIVE AMERICAN WISDOM

(Second in a series of three posts... maybe four)

"My son, if you accept my words and store up my commands within you, turning your ear to wisdom and applying your heart to understanding - indeed, if you call out for insight and cry aloud for understanding, and if you look for it as for silver and search for it as for hidden treasure, then you will understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God. For the LORD gives wisdom; from his mouth come knowledge and understanding." - Proverbs 2:1-6

In late Summer 1973 I had just returned to Texas from Ohio for my second year of education at Texas Lutheran University... coming back a week early allowing me to catch up with new found friends and re-acclimate myself to a part of the country I had quickly come to love... and in that week I remember an outdoor concert in San Antonio showcasing a number of local musicians and featuring Michael Martin Murphy... having only one album recorded and just before we all knew he wanted to be a 'cosmic cowboy'... or chase 'Wildfire' down from Yellow Mountain... everyone looked forward to his playing "Geronimo's Cadillac"... his classic justice song sharing his understanding of how the native Americans were treated resulting from the 10's of 1000's of Europeans who had been arriving one boat at a time for almost 400 years... singing...

"Warden, don't you know That prisoners have no place to go? They took Ol' Geronimo by storm Ripped off the feathers from his uniform Jesus tells me, I believe it's true The red man is in the sunset too Took all their land and they won't give it back Sent Geronimo a Cadillac" (v. 2)

MMM's summation of what happened to the warrior chief and medicine man, Geronimo... for wanting to protect the land his ancestors had occupied for almost 10,000 years... or at least longer than anyone could remember... and just so you know... I love singing this song as it was one of many lullabies I tucked my children into bed with each night... and if you do not know much about Geronimo and his philosophy and love of life... here's a short quote to peek your interest...

"I cannot think that we are useless... or God would not have created us. There is one God looking down on us all. We are all the children of one God. The sun, the darkness, the winds all listen to what we have to say."

But... don't forget the people around us are watching and listening, too... now more than ever... and still it is good to ask just what is 'wisdom,' anyway? Where does it come from? How do we get it? What do we do with it... once we think we have some? Put into perspective, please, that the wisdom of the native Americans was being catalogued via an oral tradition long before others were writing down sacred truths... and long before there were the religious traditions we now lean on for our 'way of life' these days.

In the book of Proverbs... we read... 'wisdom comes from the mouth of God' and it seems Geronimo would agree even though his life experience was far different from the European culture he faced... sensing that wisdom was both an accumulation of knowledge along with insight to apply that knowledge effectively... no matter where you are from or the name of God one uses to describe a holy relationship... Faith matters...

And from... St. Paul's Letter to the Romans ... "For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen..." (ch.1:20) Chief Seattle would echo..."Humankind has not woven the web of life. We are but one thread within it. Whatever we do to the web, we do to ourselves. All things are bound together. All things connect..." as I've said often... 'we remain wonderfully and mysteriously connected.' All of us...

SPORTS

From the Cluttered Desk

by Dr. David Davis

Watch your words!

I remember a commercial on the radio that was a warning to parents to “watch your words” to our children because of the adverse affect that they have on them psychologically and emotionally.

Phrases like: “You’re so stupid!” “I wish you had never been born!” “You’ll never amount to anything!” “You’re more trouble than what you’re worth!”

How devastating to a young child or teenager. Is it any wonder why we have so many young people drawn to the enticement of drug and alcohol abuse with the luring temptation that they will feel better about themselves? Is it possible that teen suicide has risen to epidemic proportions because death is more attractive than life?

Of course, words are also shot at parents from rebellious young people: “I wish you weren’t my parents!” “You don’t love me!” “You never let me have any fun!” “I can’t wait to get out of this house and away from you!” Sound familiar? Wonder where they learned those attitudes?

According to a recent article, a noted Christian counselor stated, “The greatest war going on in America is not the battle of drug and alcohol abuse, crime in the street, or fighting the poverty in the nation. The greatest war is the war of words going on in the homes of the American family.”

Words are used to assault another human being. They leave a young person or an adult battered in life. They murder a person’s reputation and character. They are as volatile as they are vital.

It was Washington Irving who first said, A sharp tongue is the only edged tool that grows keener with constant use.”

Words can become verbal cyanide. Lethal, relentless, flaming missiles which assault with killing power, searing and destroying at will. That’s what happens every time you put your mind in neutral and your tongue in gear. Or, as William Norris, an American journalist penned:

If your lips would keep from slips, Five things observe with care:

To whom you speak; of whom you speak;

And how, and when, and where.

Publius, the Greek sage, put his finger on another technique we tend to forget when he admitted:

“I have often regretted my speech, but never my silence!”

King David, the beloved writer of the Psalms put it this way:

I will guard my ways, That I may not sin with my tongue; I will guard my mouth as with a muzzle.”

That’s it! A tight, conscious muzzle on the muscle in your mouth. To do this, why not consider three steps.

1. THINK FIRST

Before your lips start moving, pause ten seconds and mentally preview your words. Are they accurate or exaggerated? Kind or cutting? Necessary or needless? Wholesome or vile? Grateful or complaining?

2. TALK LESS

Your chances of blowing it are directly proportional to the amount of time you spend with your mouth open. Try closing it for a while. Compulsive talkers find it difficult to keep friends. They’re irritating. So conserve your verbal energy!

3. START TODAY

Fit that muzzle on your mouth NOW! It’s a project you’ve put off long enough.

There is a war going on in the American home. It’s the war of words. Your words can either bless or blast. But remember: the ones you are suppose to love the most are the ones who will be affected the most by what you say. WATCH YOUR WORDS!

Old friend Robert said, “Be sure you taste your words before you spit them out! Once your words are said, they can only be forgiven — not forgotten!”

WINNING PITCHER - Friendswood hurler Jacob Rogers pitched seven innings, gave up four hits and struck out five to get Game 1 win over Lake Creek in the best-of-three series. The Mustangs won 4-1 and 8-3 to advance to the 5A state baseball tournament at Dell Diamond Stadium in Round Rock.

Friendswood diamondmen advance to 5A state tournament

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
 Reporter News Staff

The journey continues for the Friendswood baseball as they swept the Lake Creek Lions 4-1 and 8-3 to win the Class 5A Region III title and punch their ticket to the Class 5A state baseball tournament at Dell Diamond in Round Rock.

“We’ve had a target on our backs since last year, and I’m so proud of these guys,” Friendswood head baseball coach Cory Benavides said. “The ups and downs that we’ve been through this year, it prepared us for now. And it showed — we were calm, relaxed, and that’s what I asked for.”

In Game 1, Lake Creek took an early 1-0 lead, but the Mustangs responded by scoring four runs in the fourth frame after a lackluster first three frames.

The Mustangs exploded on offense as they batted around in the inning. A one-out single from Dane Perry breaking up Shane Sdao’s no-hitter got things started for Friendswood.

With two outs, three consecutive walks drawn by Collin Goolsby, Ayden Percy and Black (RBI) knotted the score 1-1. Kyle Lockhart stroked an RBI single to left field to give Friendswood a 2-1 lead, and then the Mustangs were able to pad their lead to 4-1 with a run scoring on a balk and another scoring on a wild pitch.

That’s all the Mustangs would need to hang on to the 4-1 win over the Lions.

Friendswood ace pitcher Jacob Rogers settled in after getting support from his teammates. After giving up a run in the first inning and four hits through four innings, Rogers allowed no hits and retired nine of the final 10 Lake Creek batters in his final three innings - pitching a complete-game win (7 innings, four hits, one run, one walk, five strikeouts).

In Game 2, Friendswood got a solid team effort defensively, on the mound and a five-RBI outing from Dylan Maxcey for an 8-3 win over Lake Creek at Rice University’s Reckling Park, sweeping the best-of-three 5A Region III championship series.

Friendswood’s starting pitcher Easton Tumis went 4.2 tough innings (three hits, three runs, two walks, three strikeouts), freshman Dane Perry entered the game in a tough spot of middle-inning relief pitching (1.1 innings, two hits, no runs, no walks, two strikeouts), but came through to set the stage for closer Griffin Kasemeyer to slam the door on the game in the seventh inning.

Friendswood wasted little time getting on the scoreboard as Boots Landry sent a line-drive two-run home run over the right field wall in the top of the first inning for an early 2-0 lead.

Maxcey recorded the first of his five RBIs with a run-scoring double down the left-field line for a 3-0 advantage in the top of the second.

Lake Creek got on the scoreboard in the bottom of the second to cut the lead to 3-1, but Friendswood answered back in the top of the fourth, as Maxcey drilled a two-out three-run home run to left field to give the Mustangs a 6-1 advantage.

The Lions cut the margin to 6-3 in the top of the fifth, but the Mustangs answered in the top of the sixth on an RBI sac fly from Maxcey and an RBI double smashed into the right-center field gap by Reed South.

The Friendswood pitching staff did their part as starting pitcher Easton Tumis went 4.2 innings (three hits, three runs, two walks, three strikeouts), freshman Dane Perry entered the game in a tough spot of middle-inning relief pitching (1.1 innings, two hits, no runs, no walks, two strikeouts), but came through to set the stage for closer Griffin Kasemeyer to slam the door on the game in the seventh inning.

Friendswood belted out 11 total base hits coming from Maxcey (2-for-3), South (2-for-4), Ayden Percy (2-for-3) and Kyle Lockhart (2-for-3).

The Mustangs (27-9-1) will face Mansfield Legacy (32-9) at 4 p.m. on Thursday, June 9 at the Dell Diamond in Round Rock in the Class 5A state semifinals.

OUT AT HOME PLATE - Friendswood outfielder Tatum Black makes a sensational throw to catcher Dylan Maxcey to cut down the Lake Creek runner at home plate. The Mustangs swept the Lions 4-1 and 8-3 to advance to the 5A state baseball tournament in Round Rock on Thursday, June 9 at 4 p.m.

FEF honors retiring directors

The Friendswood ISD Education Foundation (FEF) honored three retiring directors during its Board Meeting on May 5. The outgoing board members are Charlotte Hall, Kim Montz and Leslie Yarbrough.

"It is difficult to put into words what these three ladies have contributed to the growth of the Education Foundation," FEF Nominating Committee Chair Allan Rasmussen said.

Between the three, the group has dedicated 28 years of service to the Foundation's Board. Having served 13 years, Montz will be recognized as a Director Emeritus, maintaining all rights and privileges of an active director without holding a voting position.

Montz was instrumental in building FEF's Adopt-A-Grant program, serving as the Grant Committee chair for a number of years. She shared some of her favorite grants over the years were a Rapology grant for a junior high social studies class and the medical grants at the high school.

"While I served on a number of committees during my time with FEF, grants were always the most important to me because they are one of the greatest ways we live out our mission as a Foundation," Montz said.

Hall and Yarbrough shared some of their favorite memories serving on FEF's Gala Committee.

"Our first gala paddle raise in 2020 was definitely one of my favorite moments," Yarbrough said. "We were anxious to try something new but were blown away at the generous response from our guests. The result was truly moving and more than we could have ever imagined."

The three leave big shoes to fill and are looking forward to continuing to support the Foundation in new ways.

"I have loved seeing how things have evolved over time," Hall said. "We are so excited to see all that lies ahead for the Foundation."

Rasmussen commented the three retiring directors share an energy and passion for education and kids that has been infectious to the rest of the Board.

"Charlotte, Kim and Leslie have been a huge blessing to the Foundation," Rasmussen said. "They will be greatly missed but we look forward to partnering with them in new ways in the future."
