Search for missing person ends in tragedy

Lester Mabry left his home at approximately 7:30am, on Saturday, Dec. 10, 2022. He told his family he was going for a walk and never returned home.

When the Friendswood Police Department announced they were searching for Mabry, many neighbors reported seeing him out walking on previous occasions. One resident even reported having footage of him on his recent walk from her doorbell camera.

The Friendswood Police Department and Volunteer Fire Department searched the area around Clearview Avenue on Monday after successfully pinging Mabry's phone. Several K-9 units and an aerial drone were deployed to assist with the search. At 8:56pm Monday evening, human remains were found in the wooded area between Clearview Avenue and Clear Creek.

The Galveston County Medical Examiner's Office has identified the remains recovered by the FPD on Dec. 12, 2022, to be those of Lester Mabry and concluded that there is no evidence of foul play.

FAITH MATTERS

...because everyone believes in something!

By Rev. Dr. Brian Gige

WHEN SANTA LOST HIS COOL!

"Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a worker who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth."

1 Timothy 2:15

Well... it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas. Maybe you've noticed... or have been to a Christmas party or two or perhaps the Amazon truck has been to your house more times than that. Most of us love this time of year. For some it's a bit more difficult yet Christmas comes all by itself... ready or not and no matter how we feel!

I hope the title here caught your eye. Santa lost his cool? You mean Santa Claus? THE Santa Claus? Well... sort of... as the real person of St. Nicholas did... one of my all-time faith heroes in the Christian tradition. So, please keep reading...

Most adults are aware of the centuries' long crossing of traditions of Kris Kringle, Pere Noel and Sinter Klaus... those European fabrications of the ancient St. Nicholas morphing into the image of that jolly old elf we now call Santa! True! And yes... Jesus is and remains the reason for the season as no one can alter that fact despite the commercialization Christmas has fallen prey to since the 1950's. So... it is only fair to say Jesus will always be the gift of God found in a Bethlehem cave by shepherds and wise men... savior to the nations... yet when it comes to 'gift giving' and 'wonder' and 'joy' for children big and small I want to give some credit to St. Nicholas of Myra in Turkey from the 4th century A.D. He showed generosity in helping a man obtain the dowry to marry off his daughter and he saved two innocent men's lives... falsely accused by paying attention to what God was doing right in front of him... and being remembered for showing us what it means to be both a saint and a sinner... and here's why...

In A.D 325, Emperor Constantine called a meeting of church leaders, bishops, and pastors to sort out all of the information going around about Jesus and the Church... confusing to many besides the emperor. Nicholas, bishop of Myra is said to have attended that meeting. He along with others believed that Jesus and the Father were of one substance, one person and equal to each other. Also at that meeting was a fellow Christian and priest... Arius... who was insistent that as Jesus was born of a young virgin, and thus being human, he could not be equal to God the Father. This caused quite a controversy. And as Arius was making his case, Bishop Nicholas got up from his seat and gave Arius a punch to the face getting kicked out of the Council of Nicaea for the remainder of the meeting. Faith matters always!

You see, Nicholas did two things that were wrong... A) he struck a brother of the faith and B) he struck that brother in front of the Roman Emperor which was REALLY against the law of the day... and as a result, Nicholas was stripped of his bishop's robes, and locked up under guard for the remainder of the meeting. However, when the Council finally formed its statement of faith, what the Church calls the NICENE Creed, Bishop Nicholas' passion ruled the day as Arius was tagged 'heretical'... and as Jesus and the Father would remain one... Nicholas was given his robes... restored to his work in Myra and became in essence the hero of the Council of Nicaea. So... yeah... Santa lost his cool... call it a HOLY RAGE... something we hear little of these days...

but has certainly been needed over the centuries... people like Martin Luther nailing 95 statements to the Wittenberg Church door... or Martin Luther King, Jr. exercising holy rage when he marched peacefully on Birmingham and Washington, D.C. or Mother Theresa with her efforts with those dying in the streets of Calcutta... just three among 10's of 1000's who presented themselves approved by God... to accomplish great things... showing no shame... letting God's truth be known... reminding us we are in good company when that 'losing your cool' moment arrives!

FHS Blended English program praised in State magazine

Friendswood ISD is among 12 school districts in Texas listed in the recent issue of Texas School Business magazine's 16th-Annual Bragging Rights 2022-23. This special issue recognizes districts for their outstanding programs.

The issue is published in December each year and asks districts to submit nominations for innovative programs they have initiated in their district.

Friendswood High School teachers Corey Truman and Melissa Stephenson began working on their blended English program seven years ago. Blending history and English and understanding their relationship is part of the program.

They wanted to approach their classes in a new innovative way and have done so by teaching students to think critically about historical outcomes being affected by specific events. Students discuss and write about how different an outcome would be if specific events changed.

The 12 honored districts and their programs include:

- Birdville ISD, Floral Design Program
- Cotton Center ISD, Texas Instructional Leaders: School Culture Routines
- East Bernard ISD, Brahma Brain Camp
- Friendswood ISD, Blended US History/English III curriculum
- Groesbeck ISD, Carpentry CTE Pathway
- Hutto ISD, Automotive Technology program
- Irving ISD, engineering students create a prosthetic arm
- Northside ISD, Strong Fathers + Strong Children = Strong Families
- Pewitt CISD, Supporting Educator Excellence Daily
- Aransas County ISD, Maritime Science CTE
- Socorro ISD, Teacher Residency Program
- Splendora ISD, Realtor Lunch & Learn

FHS teachers Corey Truman and Melissa Stephenson teach Blended English. The program was listed in one of 12 districts honored by a state magazine's Bragging Rights issue.

No. 2 Lady Oilers roll past Clear Creek and Clear Falls

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

The Pearland Lady Oilers were one game away from the Class 6A state tournament last year, but the Lady Oilers look like a team on a mission as they are currently the No. 2 ranked 6A team in the state with a 16-1 overall record this season.

Pearland hosted the Clear Creek Lady Wildcats (9-6) and left no doubt as to the outcome of this non-district contest as the Lady O's took the lead at the beginning and totally dominated the entire game for a 42-21 victory.

"It was not one of our better games, but they don't have to all be pretty as long as they're wins," Pearland coach Jere Adams said.

"We only had one game last week, so we're still trying to knock the rust off and get back in the swing of things."

Pearland jumped out to an 8-0 lead in the first quarter while holding Clear Creek scoreless in the opening period.

The second period was a little closer as the Lady Oilers built a 19-3 lead before the Lady Cats closed out the final two minutes of the first half with a 6-0 run to close the half-time score to 19-9 in favor of Pearland.

The Lady O's took control of the third quarter with a 6-2 run to make the score 25-11 but Creek cut the margin to 29-22 after scoring the first six points of the fourth period. Pearland had a 29-14 halftime advantage.

But Pearland answered with a 10-0 run for a 39-21 cushion with just over two minutes left in the game and posted the 42-21 final score.

"Creek really did an awesome job," Adams said. "We have to make our adjustments and other people have to step up."

"You need to have that next-man-up mentality."

One glaring weakness for Pearland against Clear Creek as the Lady O's were a meager 4-for-14 from the charity stripe which has to improve as Pearland gets ready to enter District 23-6A action.

"We need to work on rebounding, defense and knocking down free throws and shots when we have those opportunities," Adams said.

Nyah Hardy led Pearland in scoring with 12 points while Janae Tucker added nine points and RyLee Grays added eight points and 15 rebounds. Paige Bonner had five rebounds, four points, three assists, and four steals.

PEARLAND 64 - CLEAR FALLS 38

Pearland hosted the Clear Falls Lady Knights and came away with a dominating 64-34 non-district win to improve

LOOKING FOR AN OPEN TEAMMATE - Janae Tucker looks for a passing lane against the Clear Creek Lady Wildcats. Tucker scored nine points including two 3-pointers while getting two assists and three steals to help the No. 2 state-ranked Lady Oilers to a 42-21 non-district win. their season record to 16-1 as the No. 2 Class 6A state-ranked team.

The Lady Oilers came out hot in the opening quarter to outscore the visitors 22-5. They continued to control the game as they took the second quarter 16-12 for a 38-17 lead at intermission.

Pearland continued to increase the lead in the third period 20-13 making the score 58-31 entering the final eight minutes of the game.

Clear Falls took the final quarter 8-6 leaving the Lady Oilers with a solid 64-38 win.

RyLee Grays led the offense with 18 points while also grabbing 10 rebounds while Eliece Perry added 14 points and eight boards and Nyah Hardy tossed in 10 points. La'Niah Thornton had the hot hand from 3-point land hitting three shots in the first half.

CAREER SCORING LEADER - Dawson senior Kennedy Ford recently soared past the career 1,000-point mark to be the only Dawson Lady Eagle to score more than that many points in her high school career.

Lady Eagles show marked improvement this season

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

Dawson was 15-19 last season under head coach Sharee Griffin, but the Lady Eagles have already shown early improvement this year with a 10-8 record.

The Lady Eagles return two starters back in Kennedy Ford, Dawson's all-time leading scorer, and Sarah Allison.

Joining these players include lettermen Ziara James, Kennedy Smith, and Miracle Gibson with Kendall Ford added to the lineup.

"I see that our team will have strong guard play on offense, and we will have good size in the paint," Griffin said. "Defensively, we should be quick and athletic and transfer that size in the paint on defense as well."

Pearland is an overwhelming favorite to capture the District

23-6A title after coming within one game of advancing to the 6A state tournament last season. Shadow Creek, Dawson, and Alief Taylor are the other teams that should advance to the post-season while Hastings, Alvin, and Elsie will be the lower tier teams.

Dawson recently faced the Dickinson Lady Gators and were edged 48-47 in the non-district contest.

The Lady Gators barely took the opening quarter 13-12 but got a cushion in the second period 17-5 for a 28-17 lead at intermission.

Dawson continued to battle as Dickinson was able to take the third quarter 12-11 leaving the Lady Gators with a 40-28 lead going into the final stanza.

The Lady Eagles weren't going down easy and fought back in the fourth period 19-8 only to come up a point shy 48-47 at the end of the game.

Life isn't a dress rehearsal

I love to listen to jazz music. Not the traditional New Orleans jazz, but the new age, contemporary smooth jazz that has a modern fusion of many kinds of sounds and instruments. Some traditional and some modern sounds that will uplift you during the day.

I recently bought three CDs by Mars Lasar and Paul Hardcastle and they present some amazing sounds of beauty and total ambiance for relaxation.

One of the songs that Hardcastle presents is entitled, "Life isn't a dress rehearsal."

He reminds us through his music that life is real and you can't afford to treat life lightly. Life is short and it is quickly passing us by.

I was recently thinking about my time in south India where I have been a dozen times. I have walked along the sand on the bank of the Indian Ocean. It is one of the most beautiful spectacles you will ever see.

It was almost dark, and I was walking along the edge of the water, playing a little game of dodge-em with the waves. As I looked back, I noticed the long trail of footprints I'd left behind me.

I said, "Hey, I'm making a mark." Well, I had a distant jetty in my eyesight; that was going to be my goal. So, I walked that far, turned around and came back. I looked for that bold trail of footprints in the sand. Of course, there were no footprints. They were gone. I thought about that Hollywood theatre where celebrities put their hands and footprints in cement instead of sand. Maybe that's what I should try if I want my mark to last.

So many of our efforts are poured into, well, things that are like prints in the sand. A man or woman rises to a top position in their company, and everyone's looking to them, and they've got power, and they've got influence, and they've got importance. And then they retire or they're replaced. You know what - it's amazing how quickly that hole closes up. It takes about one day to change the name on the door. And the waves come in and wipe out all the years of footprints.

Or an athlete breaks a record, only to see someone else's wave to come in and wipe it out. Awards, titles, victories, great speeches, recognition, things we work so hard, sacrifice so much for. But those things come, and they go. The marks that last are not your achievements, but the people you touch.

Your children - they're wet cement. Don't be so busy making your mark at work that you don't give them your full attention. The people you teach, the people you manage, they are wet cement. You're marking them with your influence.

Old friend Robert said, "Put your prints in cement, where they'll last, not in sand where they will disappear."

Pearland comes up short against Clear Creek 47-39

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

The Pearland Oilers have begun the 2022-2023 basketball season and head coach Steve Buckelew finds himself in a position he has never been in with his team to begin the season.

"This is the first time in 28 years that I have had a totally inexperienced group with no varsity experience," Buckelew said. "All of my guys played freshman or JV level last year. This is the youngest team I've ever coached in my 28 years at Pearland."

That could be why Pearland has a 4-10 non-district record to begin this season.

Buckelew remains optimistic at the potential for his team despite the inexperience.

"Despite the inexperience, we potentially should have a good offense and we are very athletic on the defensive side," Buckelew said. "We have some size and should be aggressive defensively."

The Oilers have some challenges rebounding as the game is moving very fast for some of the players and that's what they will have to get better as the season progresses.

It looks like Buckelew will look to Pat Bridges, Ezenna Ibe, Jason Obawemimo, Kaige Miller, and Ryan Spears as his players to provide early leadership for the team.

Buckelew remains optimistic because he knows that hard work and discipline will sooner or later get his team to be very competitive when district begins.

Dawson is the team to beat this year while Shadow Creek, Strake Jesuit, and Pearland are projected to advance to the post-season leaving Taylor, Hastings, and Elsie as the bottom tier teams.

Recently the Oilers faced the Clear Creek Wildcats and dropped a 47-39 non-district contest.

Clear Creek jumped out early for a 20-12 first quarter lead, but the two teams battled in the second quarter with the 'Cats taking the frame 9-8 and a 29-20 half-time lead.

The Oilers came out strong in the second half to take the third quarter 14-6 to cut the lead to 35-34 entering the final quarter.
