Some of the activities have already begun. The Lighted Christmas Trail is open nightly at sunset now through the first of the year. It is located in Stevenson Park and a perfect location for festive photos. Music, food trucks and snow flurries on the trail begin Dec. 2 and repeat the 9 and 16.

tom event Flapjack socks, Flapjack 5K & Kid's K Finisher Medals, and a Whataburger Pancake Breakfast.

The local 'weather' prediction is that snow

Contest to find the Elf returns

Elf on the Shelf fun has returned this year for children in Friendswood. The sleuthing contest began Nov. 28 and will continue through Dec. 2.

Children are asked to grab their detective hats and use their elf-sleuthing skills to find where Elfie is hiding. Then they need to check back on the Friendswood Parks and Rec Facebook page each day for a new clue to a new location where he could be hiding in Friendswood.

The contest's prize packs were provided by title sponsor, HomeTown Bank of Friendswood. The Parks' Facebook page has posted a video of Elfie riding in the container that gets sent from a car parked at the bank drive through to inside the bank. The teller at HomeTown Bank gets a holiday surprise when she opens the container and there is Elfie holding on to his money.

The Elf on the Shelf contest started in 2005 with the self-published the American picture book "The Elf on the Shelf: A Christmas Tradition" by Carol Aebersold and her daughter Chanda Bell, along with a special box with a small Scout Elf inside. Parents and children have enjoyed the holiday return of the elf in their own homes. The elf 'monitors' children's behavior and reports naughtiness to Santa for his gift giving lists.

Friendswood Parks and Recreation Department developed the contest to be an Elf finding event with prizes. Clues, problem solving and locating the ever-moving elf make it holiday fun around town for the entire family.

To find more holiday fun, visit www.ci.friendswood.tx.us/386/Santa-in-the-Park-December.

LETTERS TO SANTA

Children can write their own letter or pick the letter at the mailbox in Stevenson Park. A fill in the blank Santa letter is at the mailbox, but you can also download the letter at www.ci.friendswood.tx.us/630/Letters-to-Santa. Letters can be dropped off at Santa's mailbox located by the 20 ft. Christmas tree in Stevenson Park at 1100 S. Friendswood Drive. Children should be sure to put their return address so Santa can respond. Letters will be accepted through Dec. 2.

How to Force Bulbs Indoors for the Holidays

Bulbs can be forced to enjoy their blooms during the holidays. The best bulbs to force are amaryllis, daffodils, hyacinths, tulips, crocus, grape hyacinths and snowdrops. The act of forcing a bulb to grow requires very little work on our part. Forcing simply refers to tricking the bulbs to bloom out of season and that's easy to do. Amaryllis or Paper Whites (narcissus) are festive for table decorating with holiday wraps, bows, and other adornments. The flowers can be enjoyed by all.

• Planting

There are three methods for forcing bulbs: water, rocks and soil. All three methods are easy and effective; the choice comes down to aesthetics. Planting in water or with rocks, in a clear container, will give you a view of the bulb and roots. Planting in soil provides a more stable growing environment and makes it easier to save the bulbs for the next season.

• Water Method

To plant using water you will need a forcing vase. Forcing vases are wide at the top and bottom with a narrow neck 2-3 inches from the top of the vase. The neck suspends the bulb over the water source. They are readily available on the internet (new and vintage) and at thrift stores. To use a forcing vase, position the tip-end up with the bottom of the vase ? of an inch or so above the water. The roots will reach down into the water as it grows. Check water level and top off as needed.

• Rock Method

Line your container with clean rocks, pebbles or marbles. Place the bulb with the tip-end up on the rocks. Add more rocks to secure the bulb in place. Add water to the base of the bulb. Be careful not to add too much water as the bulb may rot. Add water as needed.

• Soil Method

Fill a clean container that has with a drainage hole about halfway with potting soil. Plant the bulb tip-end up with ? to 2/3 of the bulb above the surface of the soil. Gently press the soil around the bulb then water thoroughly. Dress up the pot with moss if desired.

For all methods, after planting the bulb, place it in a spot receiving indirect light. Move the bulb to a sunny area when roots appear. To check root growth in soil, gently rock the bulb. If it seems loose, the roots are not growing yet.

• Maintenance

For water-grown or rock-grown bulbs, replace water to just below the bulb every 3-4 days. After flowering is complete, compost the bulb.

For bulbs potted in soil, maintain moist but not soggy soil. After the flower has bloomed, cut the stem off to about two inches about the bulb but leave the foliage as is. Fertilize the plant with a general 10-10-10 mix as directed on the package. You then have two choices. Save the bulb for next season or naturalize it outdoors in the garden. To save the bulb for the next year: continue to water the plant until the foliage has died back. Then, let the soil dry out, remove the bulb and store in a cool, dry location until next fall. If you would like to plant the bulb in the garden, wait until the last cold spell then plant the bulb 2 inches deep in full sun to partial shade in a well-drained location. Amaryllis will naturalize in your garden and bloom year after year.

Forcing bulbs is easy, fun and the results are festive for the holiday season ahead.

FAITH MATTERS

THANKSGIVING LEFTOVERS

"Taste and see that the LORD is good; blessed is the one who takes refuge in him. Fear the LORD, you his holy people, for those who fear him lack nothing. The lions may grow weak and hungry, but those who seek the LORD lack no good thing. Come, my children, listen to me; I will teach you the love of the LORD." -Psalms 34:8-11

In my teen years back in northeast Ohio the lunchroom was full on Thanksgiving Monday with turkey sandwiches on wheat bread with lots of mayo sticking the bread and the stuffing together... and if we were fortunate... meaning there was still some leftover cranberry sauce from the weekend... a brown bag lunch would include that as well! And who could turn down those last few slices of pumpkin or pecan pie with a dallop or two of freshly made whipped cream? Ah... Thanksgiving leftovers... what a memory for our taste buds... and what an image for our lives now as we lean into Christmas and the new year...

In last week's post I listed seven things I am and remain thankful for. The message ended with a hopeful thought you might make a similar list for yourself... So... let me just say I had a wonderful Thanksgiving holiday... not the best ever... not a perfect weekend but a wonderful and meaningful time nonetheless...

Did you make that list? There's lots of ways to get at this... like one of the first times we find God's people being thankful in 2 Chronicles 5... with 120 priests along with trumpeters & musicians joined in unison giving praise and thanks to the LORD. And there were cymbals & other instruments and singers who raised their voices in praise to the LORD singing... "God is good; God's love endures forever." What were they thankful for? Not food or shelter or family... but "God's love" and a constant presence of the holy... and just like on the fourth Thursday of November as we gather around the family table... we remember that Jesus gave thanks for God's power and grace as he lifted the bread and cup in front of his disciples putting in place a "new covenant" we now partake of weekly... often called "eucharist"... the formal name for the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion as it means "I give thanks..." So, here are "10 questions" for your Thanksgiving leftovers...

1. What's one kind or thoughtful thing someone did for you recently? Have you thanked them?
2. Who is always there for you, and how do you feel about that? Do they even know?
3. Who has helped you become the person you are today? And that one thing you'd thank them for?
4. Who's someone who always really listens when you talk, and how does that affect you?
5. How have your spiritual beliefs or practices fulfilled you recently? Do you need some help?
6. What's the best thing that happened today so far? This month? This year? The past decade?
7. What's something that inspired or touched you recently? If you "practice God's presence" it's actually pretty easy...
8. What's that one thing you enjoy about your job?
9. What about today has been better than yesterday? We can always "be better!"
10. Who have you enjoyed being around recently, and why?

"Taste and see that the LORD is good..." the Psalmist says... May your "Thanksgiving leftovers" be filled with joy, peace and love and less MSG than you need! Maybe it's time you do something good for yourself by doing something good for someone else with no expectation of any return. Thanksgiving leftovers? May yours be savory and sumptuous... lacking nothing and feeling blessed as we love the Lord... Faith matters. Always!

Brazoria County burn ban lifted

Continued rains during the holiday week prompted Brazoria County Judge Matt Sebesta to lift a month-long burn ban effective Thanksgiving Day.

"We have gotten a tremendous amount of rain and we are in pretty good shape," County Fire Marshal Martin Vela told county commissioners in a special meeting Nov. 22.

The wet weather prompted a number of phone calls from landowners regarding the ban, he said.

"Now we need the rains to stop," he added.

That may happen for the rest of the week, according to local forecasts, with shower changes only slight through the weekend. But rain chances bump up to 40 percent on Tuesday, and stay there through Dec. 11.

Bans have also been lifted in Harris, Fort Bend and Galveston counties.

Winter fish stocking begins at area lakes

The annual Texas tradition of stocking rainbow trout for fishing is happening now at bodies of water throughout Texas, including several in Brazoria and Harris counties.

Texas Parks and Wildlife stocks catchable sized fish during the winter to create more fishing opportunities, says Rainbow Trout Program Director Carl Kittel.

"Rainbow trout love cold water and can be caught on a variety of baits and lures - worms, commercially available pastes, corn, spinners, spoons, flies and more," he said, "and are great to take home and eat. Our winter rainbow trout program has been a favorite of anglers for over 40 years."

In Brazoria County, First Capitol Park Pond in West Columbia and Resoft Park Lake in Alvin are scheduled to be stocked the second week of December, according to the schedule.

Visitors can fish in a Texas State Park from a bank, dock or pier for free without a fishing license. However, Parks and Wildlife officials recommend reserving a day pass in advance. Day passes can be reserved online or by calling 512-389-8900.

From the Cluttered Desk

Poor is a matter of perspective

Sometimes when I am joking around, I tell people I had to wear hand-me-downs when I was growing up and all I had were three older sisters.

Actually, I had one younger brother and a sister who was born two weeks before I graduated from high school. One of those surprises in life for my parents, but a blessing.

I grew up in your typical family in the 1950's and 60's. We weren't poor, nor did we have great wealth. Growing up, I had food on the table and shelter over my head and friends to play with, and when you had those three things, you were never poor.

In fact, poor is just a matter of perspective.

I heard a story about a father of a very wealthy family who took his son on a trip to the rural countryside with the firm purpose of motivating this son to work hard by showing him how poor people can be. The father wanted to prepare his son to take over managing the vast family fortune and estate. They spent a couple of days and nights helping with the daily activities on the farm of a poor family. Sharing meals at night with the family, they learned a little about planting and life on the farm.

On the return from their trip, the father asked his son, "How was the trip?"

"It was great, Dad!"

"Did you see how poor people can be?" the father asked.

"Oh yeah," said the son.

"So what did you learn from the trip?" asked the father.

The son replied, "I saw that we have one dog and they have four. We have a pool that reaches to the middle of our garden, and they have a creek that has no end. We have imported lanterns in our garden, and they have the stars at night. Our patio reaches to the front yard, and they have the whole horizon. We have a small piece of land to live on, and they have fields that go beyond our sight. We have servants who serve us, but they serve others. We buy food, but they grow theirs. We have walls around our property to protect us, and they have many friends to protect them."

With this, the boy's father was speechless. Then his son added, "Thanks dad for showing me how poor we are."

I have nine grandchildren and I want them to learn that they are rich too! Maybe not according to the world's standards - but they came into this world surrounded with a lot of love and prayers. Hopefully they will learn about the power of prayer and will discover how valuable that is in life.

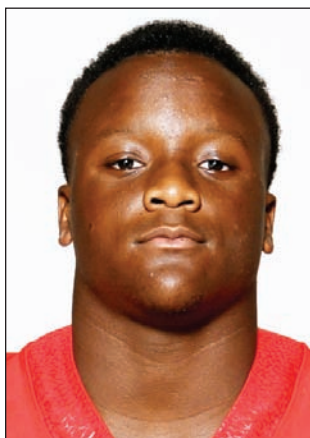

Perhaps today you will be reminded how fortunate you are in life. There is so much tragedy in life that we must not fail to be grateful for those who are near and dear to our hearts.

I must confess that when I am with the grand critters - just getting that special smile or hearing them laugh - makes me even more grateful that I have a life that is blessed.

Old friend Robert said, "A grandfather is someone with silver in his hair and gold in his heart."

Shadow Creek, Dawson players headline All-District 23-6A picks

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

It is not surprising that Shadow Creek and Dawson had the most selections for the All-District 23-6A teams after the Sharks captured the 23-6A crown with a 7-0 record and the Eagles finished in second place with a 6-1 mark.

Shadow Creek head coach Brad Butler and his coach staff were selected as the 2022 Coaching Staff of the Year by their coaching peers after posting an 11-1 overall record while advancing to the 6A Region III Div. II area round where they fell to Summer Creek 36-20. They pounded Brazoswood 77-7 in the bi-district round of the post-season.

Shadow Creek senior defensive tackle Theo Randle was named 23-6A Most Valuable Player.

Randle had 19 solo tackles, 11 assisted stops, two sacks, 10 QB hurries, and one fumble recovery and was a presence on defense all season.

Dawson junior running back Bryce Burgess was named the 23-6A Offensive Player of the Year. Burgess had another out-
