Mixed use proposed on Magnolia Parkway

By N. BRADFORD

Reporter News Staff

A proposed mixed-use project on Magnolia Parkway would include a trailhead park and "live-work" units, with ground floor commercial and living units above.

Pearland City Council on Monday approved 6-1 the first reading of a zone change that would allow a proposal for the 22-acre site fronting Magnolia Parkway to move forward.

Before the council vote, Councilman Alex Kamkar, who cast the lone vote against the needed zone change, added the stipulation that no more than 10 percent of residential units be three-bedroom.

"It impacts the school district," Mayor Kevin Cole said, regarding reducing the three-bedroom portion.

Located west of Manvel Road and south of Magnolia Parkway, the property is currently zoned as general business. Plans call for nine buildings, three that will front Magnolia Parkway, along with a pocket park on the western tip of the site. The park would tie into the city's existing trails and provide public access, bike rack, water fountains and parking.

"There's been about two years of time and effort put into studying this intersection and finding the right place to do this project, and I think we're finally gotten there," said Travis Donnell, representative for CTC Residential LLC. "It will have positive impacts on the city for years to come."

In addition to the trailhead park and diversity of housing, the city will gain more than $50 million of value to the tax rolls, he said.

Thus far, traffic on Magnolia Parkway has not been enough to warrant commercial development at that intersection, Donnell said.

"The traffic count on Broadway is almost 30,000 vehicles per day," he said. "On Magnolia Parkway fronting our site, it's about 10,000. That's why this land has been available as general business for a very long time yet it is still vacant land."

The proposal calls for up to 360 living units that would house an estimated 550 residents.

Council members' concerns included adequate parking given public access to the trailhead park.

During a public hearing, one person spoke in favor, with no one speaking against.

"I've been here since 1954 and we used to ride horses in that area. It's been important to me to see something great happen on that part of Magnolia," said longtime resident Marilyn Bullard. "This (proposal) is classy. That area can be so dynamite."

A second and final reading of the zone change will be held at a future meeting.

More spending in 2022 good news for city

By N. BRADFORD

Reporter News Staff

A more than 10-percent jump in sales tax revenues for the State of Texas in December was mirrored locally, as City of Pearland December sales tax revenues rose 9.9 percent over December 2021, according to data from the Texas Comptroller's office.

From a sales tax perspective, 2022 was good to Pearland. Overall sales tax revenues for the year were up 10.3 percent over 2021.

The majority of Pearland's maximum 8.25 percent sales tax — 6.25 percent — goes to the state of Texas. Still, sales tax makes up approximately 27 percent of the city's general fund revenues. The city in its current year budget is predicting just over $30 million in sales tax revenue, up 3.75 percent from the prior fiscal year.

Though Pearland has the highest sales tax revenues, 2022 was a good year for the county as a whole. Among Brazoria County cities, the largest year-over-year gain from 2021 to 2022 was Quintana, where sales tax numbers for 2022 jumped nearly 39 percent. Yearly numbers were down more than 5 percent in Manvel and nearly 3 percent in Freeport, but up elsewhere in Brazoria County.

"Business spending continued to be the principal driver of growth in sales tax revenue, with rapid growth in receipts from non-retail sectors," Texas Comptroller Glenn Hegar said in a statement released last week. "The mining, construction, wholesale trade, and rental and leasing sectors had double-digit gains compared with a year ago, and receipts from the manufacturing sector remain robust as well."

Growth in overall receipts from the retail trade sector was more muted, Hegar added, at about the rate of inflation in consumer goods prices.

Sales tax is the largest source of state funding for the state budget, accounting for 56 percent of all tax collections, according to the Comptroller's Office.

Friendswood unveils new physical Gift Card in a bid to keep more dollars local

The community of Friendswood in Texas has unveiled its new physical Love Friendswood Gift Card program, in a departure from its previous digital only version. Friends of Downtown Friendswood Association (FDFA) and Friendswood Chamber of Commerce are backing the new physical Gift Card to keep more dollars local. The new Love Friendswood Gift Card can be spent with multiple participating businesses in Friendswood. Cards are available to buy online, and in-person from the Friendswood Chamber of Commerce and Align Boutique. Brett Banfield, from the Friends of Downtown Friendswood Association said, "FDFA's mission is 'cultivating a home-grown vibrancy for our downtown community', having a local gift card program fits within that mission very well. Enticing citizens to shop locally, downtown and throughout our community, will help create vibrancy through shopping and dining at our local establishments. At the same time, it will reinforce the 'small-town feel' of Friendswood. FDFA is thrilled that Friendswood Chamber of Commerce is partnering with us in this endeavor." Carol Ives Marcantel, President and CEO of Friendswood Chamber of Commerce, added, "The Friendswood Chamber of Commerce is here to promote our businesses and encourage shop local, and the new physical Love Friendswood Gift Card will help us do both. Through the Gift Card, we can encourage collaboration and growth within our community businesses, and strengthen our local economy." Shanna Kirkpatrick, board member of FDFA said the new physical Love Friendswood Gift Card will be easier for businesses and customers: "Friendswood is a small community outside of Houston with a 'live here, work here' mentality. Our former Gift Card was challenging to navigate for both the giver and the receiver. Givers printed out a Gift Card certificate that did not look or feel very special. Receivers did not have a list of locations that accepted the card easily and businesses found it tricky to accept." A number of shops and restaurants are registered to accept the new Love Friendswood Gift Card, including B1895 Tavern. Owner Megan Jakob said, "B1895 Tavern, previously Brasserie 1895, is a family-owned American Tavern, established in 2016. We were part of the old digital Gift Card and while all opportunities for purchasing Gift Cards are helpful to the business, we found that some customers prefer to give or receive a tangible gift. With the new physical Love Friendswood Gift Card, we don't lose any of the magic of opening or giving a gift, and this feels important to the experience." Another business set to accept the new Love Friendswood Gift Card is Luxie Plum Boutique. Owner Caitlin Farias said: The Love Friendswood Gift Card is part of the Downtown Gift Card concept from payments provider Miconex in association with payments technology solutions provider EML Payments, and is the first program for the operator in Texas. Downtown Gift Card systems run across the US, in Arizona, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Montana, Michigan, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, South Dakota and Virginia.

FAITH MATTERS

...because everyone believes in something!

By Rev. Dr. Brian Gige

PLAYING HIDE 'N SEEK WITH GOOD

"If we had forgotten to pray to our God or made fools of ourselves with store-bought gods. Wouldn't God have figured this out? We can't hide things from God."

-Psalm 44:20-21

In my neighborhood many have kept their Christmas lights shining all the way to January 5th... the twelfth day of Christmas... and for a few others they are still on tonight. Thanks for the reminder... "the light has come into the world and the darkness has not overcome it..." Yet... Christmas can be a time when folks get overwhelmed... embracing cultural expectations and trying to end the year well and all... getting only more complicated if the 'to-do' list for 2023 ends up as thick as our old Franklin day-timers! So... take a breath. Relax. Rejoice. Recall God loves you...

When I was young... my neighborhood was filled with so many children... we could have been the poster boys and poster girls for the 1950's and '60's! We played outside... a lot... engaging in games my grandchildren have never heard of and of those games the one we never tired of playing was 'hide 'n seek'. This always happened at dusk... as it was then the shadows were easier to claim around the cars and shrubs and fences in the yards on both sides of the street... and... whoever saw the streetlights to go on last... was "it." It was a game that lasted forever... it seemed... or until our parents depleted the players one by one calling us home for the night. And while those my age could tell a 'hide 'n seek tale or two... here is news I can share as we walk into 2023... playing 'hide 'n seek' with God is a game none of us will win... at least according to the Psalmist! Yet, there is abundant evidence that many people are... playing games with God, that is... some calling it the "halo effect" ... as in every angel has a halo and it seems when people are asked by a pollster about their worship attendance and religious practices they more than often tell the pollster what the pollster wants to hear vs. what their true behavior and practice reveals ... God will find you wearing a halo or not... for you see the evidence is held up against the reporting of the churches... the halo-adorning populace tell the pollsters they are at worship "regularly" (4 out of 8 Sundays) which is about 50% of the people being in worship often ... but, the churches report that just a little less than 20% of the people are in worship... 2 out of 10 Sundays. While some can try to hide the truth from the pollsters, God will always see past our halo... and what might make matters a bit more discouraging... we all saw worship attendance decrease in the last decade, but it has become worse since the pandemic. And so... like old Martin Luther used to ask... we must ask also... "what does this mean?" Well... it means we're not the 'religious' people we tout ourselves to be and the percentages change only if we do... As history has pointed out... communities with strong, vibrant, and healthy churches are strong, vibrant and healthy communities! So... here are a few thoughts to initiate some 'town talk' for churches and community leaders to share in...

+ With less than 20% of Americans in worship on Sundays... what's the connection here with cultural anxiety? How does 'church' build up? + Only Hawaii is growing its worship numbers compared to US population growth. 1 in 50 states! + Mid-sized USA churches are shrinking. Large & small churches are growing... with congregations 40-190-years old now being in decline. + Church plants are keeping up with only 1/4 of the population and by 2050 US worship attendance will be 1/2 of what it was in 1990... of course that is... if we keep playing hide 'n seek with God! So, let's remind ourselves and the world... our God is not hiding... as Jesus is "God with us!" So, come out, come out wherever you are... to worship the King... Faith matters...

Texas Tenors headline UHCL president's investiture concert to raise scholarship funds

The Texas Tenors, acclaimed for their success as finalists of "America's Got Talent" in 2009, as well as for their outstanding classical crossover vocals, will perform at a fundraising concert at University of Houston-Clear Lake's Bayou Theater Wednesday, Jan. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Their performance will be the headline event in the investiture of UH-Clear Lake's sixth president, Richard Walker. A portion of the proceeds from ticket sales are in support of his new initiative, the President's Excellence Scholarship Fund, which aims to help remove financial barriers for all students.

The classically trained, vocally versatile trio with deep Texas roots is made up of JC Fisher, Marcus Collins and John Hagen. They are the most successful music group in the history of "America's Got Talent" and have released four studio albums, hosted two PBS specials, four DVDs and a children's book that have earned international recognition, including three Emmy Awards.

"We are so honored to be part of this," Collins said. "We love to be part of events like this, so we can help bring awareness to the students, talk about the scholarship fund, and help further the initiative."

Collins said that especially since the event was a fundraiser, the Tenors hoped to pack the house.

"The concert will be really fun, with everything from country to classical incorporated into new material," he said. "We've got some classic rock—Queen and Aerosmith, as well as some Ed Sheeran's 'Perfect' mixed in with some Italian lyrics with our three-part harmonies. There are definitely some love songs in the show, so bring your sweet-heart or your significant other."

With a combination of country, classical, Broadway, pop and classic rock, Collins said that the show would appeal to everyone.

"We always say, anyone from age 3 to 103 will love our show," he said. "We love to get out and engage with the audience the whole show - there's a part in the second half when I come out and sing and dance with people in the crowd. I'm so glad we are able to get that back in the show after the (COVID) separation, because that's my favorite part."

Collins said the Tenors knew of UHCL's history and partnerships with NASA Johnson Space Center.

"I really think our show's opening is tailor made for UHCL," he said. "We have done a space-themed opening to Queen's 'The Show Must Go On' for (Apollo 7 Astronaut) Walter Cunningham's birthday for some years," he said. "We were so honored to play for him, we created an entire show opening in honor of the space program and astronauts."

Texas economic forecast released

The Texas Real Estate Research Center has issued an economic forecast for 2023, based on current and market conditions as well as past market trends.

While the federal reserve will continue raising interest rates to combat inflation, success will not likely be reflected completely and immediately, predicts research economist Dr. Adam Perdue.

Should a recession occur, consumer prices would fall faster than otherwise due to a lack of consumer demand related to a loss in consumer income, Perdue says. Inflation could also be pushed higher if supply constraints from China and Europe increase or if volatile energy prices are higher than expected.

In housing, mortgage interest rate's annual average will likely be higher in 2023 than 2022, predicts lead data analyst Josh Roberson. Existing single family run tea price growth will moderate with the potential to turn negative on a year-over-year basis. Texas builders and developers have faced similar supply constraints as the rest of the economy over the last few years. This has led to a backlog of under construction homes that will continue to come to market. Existing-home sales will likely be lower in 2023, as elevated mortgage rates combined with elevated asking prices will slow sales even as price growth moderates.

Research economist Dr. Harold Hunt forecast oil will average between $80 and $100 per barrel. A recession, he says, would place downward pressure on prices. In addition, the global response to Russia's war on Ukraine will play a role in the path oil takes, as well as any decision by OPEC.

Pearland roundballers run past Alvin and Alief Elsik

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

When the 2022-2023 basketball season started, Pearland head coach Steve Buckelew found himself in a position he hasn't been in in 23 years as the Oilers head coach. He found himself entering the season without a returning starter or returning letterman for the varsity basketball team.

Bucklelew has won over 800 games in his illustrious career and despite the uphill journey for this season, the veteran coach will find a way to see his hardcourt warriors play to their potential and advance to the post-season.

The Oilers are 2-1 in the early district standings as they have wins over Alief Elsik (52-33) and Alvin while dropping an early league game to Shadow Creek (43-26). Pearland has won their last five games.

Pearland is a pre-season pick to make the playoffs with state-ranked Dawson, Shadow Creek, and Strake Jesuit.

PEARLAND 78 - ALVIN 29

Pearland (9-13, 2-1) unleashed plenty of firepower early and rolled to 78-29 win over the Alvin Yellowjackets (1-20, 0-3).

Varsity assistant David Koonsen, who was taking the coaching reins in the absence of Buckelew (attending his daughter's wedding), was pleased by what he saw by Pearland's performance.

"We've been talking about three things all year long that we have to do well, which are take care of the ball, rebound and knock shots down," Koonsen said. "I thought we did a good job of that today, and we played with a lot of energy. We know Alvin isn't that big, so we said that when we shoot, let's go get on the boards. The guys played hard and had a lot of fun."

The Oilers jumped out to a 19-3 first quarter lead and never looked back as the hapless Yellowjackets were no match against the hustling Pearland players who were relentless on both ends of the court.

Six Oilers scored in the opening frame led by sophomore Ryan Spears (5 points), senior Kaige Miller (5 points), junior Patrick Bridges (4 points), and junior Julian Valentine (3-pointer).

DRIVING LAYUP - Pearland sophomore Ryan Spears (2) scores on a driving layup against Alvin in the 78-29 district win. The Oilers will travel to Dawson on Wednesday, Jan. 11 at 7:00 p.m. to face the state-ranked Eagles in a crucial district clash.

Pearland continued the pressure defense to limit Alvin to eight points in the second quarter while reeling off 20 more points for a 39-11 lead at intermission.

The Oilers took the third period 17-13 while Alvin had their best offensive performance with 3 treys.

The final period was a blowout as Pearland pumped in 22 points while holding Alvin to five free throws to pick up the 78-29 district win.

Bridges led the offense with 13 points while five different Oilers tossed in eight points each.

Alvin received strong play from Jacob Herrera and Elijah McKinzie, who finished with 11 and 9 points, respectively.

The Oilers play at No. 8 state-ranked Dawson next Wednesday, Jan. 11 at 7:00 p.m. In a rare doubleheader, the Dawson girls will host No. 13 state-ranked Pearland in the first game at 5:30 p.m.

Late rally sends Dawson past Alief Taylor in district clash

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

With only 17 seconds remaining in the game between Dawson and Alief Taylor, things didn't look so good for the Eagles, who are the top-ranked team in the Houston area.

But a lot of things can happen with so little time as Dawson proved against the Lions.

Taylor was leading 37-33, with 29 seconds left after a goaltending call committed by Dawson on Taylor's Jonathan Smith's shot in the lane.

The Lions' fouled Dawson's Devan Brown on a 3-point attempt with 16.9 seconds showing, and the 6-3 freshman made each attempt for a 37-36 score.

Taylor then made an ill-advised inbounds throw, and Dawson's Keshawn Cotton came up with the steal. He threw the ball to Brown, who fed senior guard Jaden Miller under the basket for a 38-37 Eagles lead with 7.9 seconds remaining.

The Lions quickly tried to move the ball down court, but

Dawson then fired a long inbounds pass to Kendrick Bailey, who was fouled with eight-tenths of a second left.

Bailey made one of two free throws to put the finishing touches on a game which, for the most part, was owned by Taylor.

Dawson won the game 39-37.

"They deserved that game more than we ever deserved it," Dawson head coach Mark Barre said. "They played better than us for 31 ? minutes. We couldn't make shots, we kept making turnovers, and we couldn't get a rebound."

"You have to play one possession at a time. You can't ever stop coaching, and you can't ever stop playing. You just keep competing because you never know what's going to happen."

Dawson (19-4, 3-0) stays at the top of the 23-6A standings while Taylor fell to 10-10 and 1-1.

Senior Kendrick Bailey led all Dawson scorers with 10 points while senior Jaden Miller tossed in eight points.

Junior Charles Anderson grabbed seven rebounds while Keshawn Cotton grabbed five boards.

The Eagles hit 6-of-23 three-pointers and were 7-of-14 from the free throw line.

Dawson will host the Pearland Oilers on Wednesday, Jan. 11 at 7:00 p.m. in a critical league contest between the cross-town cousins.

Dawson won another close game against Strake Jesuit 57-54 to stay undefeated in district play. There wasn't any other available information for the game.

Senior Jaden Miller launches a long-range shot against Alief Taylor. Miller scored eight points, five assists, and two steals in the district contest. Dawson rallied to get a 39-37 win over the Lions. Dawson will host the Pearland Oilers on Wednesday, Jan. 11 at 7:00 p.m. in a crucial district contest.

Lessons we must learn in life

I think that it is important that we realize that we never get too old to learn valuable lessons in life.

One day, a teacher gave her class a test. She listed the first part of some famous sayings, asking the students to fill in the rest. The responses were varied as well as humorous. Here are some of the more interesting answers.

* You can't teach an old dog new...math.

* The pen is mightier than the...pigs.

* An idle mind is...the best way to relax.

* A penny saved is...not worth much.

* Two's company, three's...the Musketeers.

* Where there's smoke, there's...pollution.

* Children should be seen and not...spanked or grounded.

* A rolling stone...plays the guitar.

* A bird in the hand is...a real mess.

* It's better to light one candle than to...waste electricity.

* It's always darkest before...I open my eyes.

* You have nothing to fear but...homework.

* If you can't stand the heat...don't start the fire-place.

* If you lie down with the dogs...you'll stink in the morning.

* The squeaking wheel gets...annoying.

* We have nothing to fear but...our principal.

* I think, therefore I...get a headache.

* Early to bed and early to rise...is first in the bathroom.

* There is nothing new under the...bed.

* The grass is always greener...when you leave the sprinkler on.

* Laugh and the whole world laughs with you, cry and... you have to blow your nose.

* Laugh and the world laughs with you, cry and... someone yells, "Shut up!"

Well, perhaps today's young people have a little different perspective on life than us older folks. But it doesn't hurt to take a look back and realize that some of the greatest lessons we learned in life came from the simple times of life.

But one thing should never change and that is our appreciation for those that we love the most. Those who are there for us no matter what. Being loved has a greater importance.

Old friend Robert said, "A real friend is someone who walks into your life when the rest of the world has walked out."
