'Trap, neuter, return'

Program would target cat colonies

By N. BRADFORD

Reporter News Staff

A humane and cost-effective remedy for Pearland's steadily growing colonies of stray cats will be explored in 2023, as city officials entertain a pilot program used in what was once Houston's most feline-infested ZIP codes.

The program, known as "Trap, Neuter and Return" is not the same as trap, neuter and release programs done in other communities, representatives from Houston-based no-kill shelter Friends For Life said during a December discussion with city council.

"In order for this to work, cats are released where they are found," said wildlife biologist Brian Low. "This is picking areas where there are a large number of complaints, and really hitting that area. The targeted aspect of it really is key."

Through the program, cats are humanely trapped, evaluated, vaccinated, sterilized and marked by an identifying notch in the left ear, all administered by a veterinarian, and returned to the trap location.

Returning the cats to the area where they have been living means the animals would continue protect their territory — areas that would otherwise be invaded by a new colony of cats, he said.

As cat populations go unchecked and increase, so do complaints from residents.

"We know there are cat advocates in Pearland and there are property owners who do not necessarily want bajillions of cats reproducing and yowling on their properties," Friends For Life Outreach Coordinator Alese

"We know there are cat advocates in Pearland and there are property owners who do not necessarily want bajillions of cats reproducing and yowling on their properties."

-Alese Zeman
Friends For Life

Zeman said. "Then there's always the issue of cost. We want to do this in a way that will save taxpayer money."

Targeted TNR, she said, is a most cost-effective way to end up with fewer cats.

After instituting a pilot program in Houston ZIP code 77009 where feral cats were deemed most problematic, shelter intakes for cats dropped nearly 45 percent from 2013 to 2018 and euthanasia dropped nearly 86 percent.

"77009 was the No. 1 ZIP code for cat intake," Zeman said. "By 2018, it had dropped to No. 4. Remember, there is a community cat program going on in all of the other ZIP codes. 77009 was the only one with a targeted TNR going on."

The national cost-per-cat average is about $58 for TNR, vs. $87 for catching and euthanizing and $327 for catching and adoption.

"And when you have targeted TNR programs the population is decreasing," she added.

Councilmembers agreed to look at such a program in the new year, provided it fits with the city's current animal control laws.

Should the city institute such a program, Friends For Life would design a targeted program, train city staff and handle public relations and customer calls and complaints regarding the program.

"Other jurisdictions have handled legal issues surrounding TNR — they do it by carving out an exception to leash laws for cats and cats that are in a TNR program," said Executive Director Salise Shuttlesworth. "Some jurisdictions create a state of temporary ownership. Some require registration of colony managers. All the options are open to you to work through the legality."

Alvin ISD Trustees honored during School Board Recognition Month

January is School Board Recognition Month and Alvin ISD is celebrating its trustees for their dedication and commitment to the district and its students.

The theme of this year's School Board Recognition Month is Forward, Together, which highlights the collaboration among school leadership, teachers, and parents on behalf of students.

"Our school board members are selfless volunteers who spend long hours working to ensure each and every student have the opportunity to learn and grow," Alvin ISD Superintendent Carol Nelson said. "Celebrating School Board Recognition Month is one way to say thanks for all they do."

Serving as a link between the community and classroom, school board members are elected to establish the policies that provide the framework for public schools. The Alvin ISD school board is responsible for over 29,000 students, 4,500 employees and 33 campuses.

In Alvin ISD, the Board consists of seven elected community members with backgrounds in areas such as petrochemical and technology industries, service of individuals with special needs, former educators, small business owners, and more. These individuals bring their personal expertise with a shared vision of excellence for children to their role as an Alvin ISD trustee.

Board members serving are: Earl Humbird, President; Vivian Scheibel, Vice President; Albert "AJ" Johnson, Secretary; Regan Metoyer-Peterson, Trustee; Cory Scott, Trustee; Cheryl Harris, Trustee; and David Selsky, Trustee.

Filing will close on Feb. 17. Elections are May 6.

The seven members of the Pearland school board serve three-year terms and are elected at-large, representing the entire district instead of a section of the population. Runoffs aren't held unless opponents tie for a race.

The Pearland school board meets at 5 p.m. on the second Tuesday of each month.

Alvin ISD trustees with terms expiring this year are board President Earl Humbird, position No. 6; and board vice president Vivian Scheibel, position No. 7.

The Alvin school board holds workshops at noon on the first Wednesday, followed by the regular meeting at 7 p.m. on the following Tuesday.

For more information on Alvin ISD elections, call Mary Anne McWhirter, 281-388-1130 or email mmcwhirter@alvinisd.net.

Candidate filing will take place during the same period for the City of Pearland, where voters will select a mayor and two council seats. Mayor Kevin Cole, Councilman Alex Kamkar and Councilman Woody Owens are all up for reelection in May. For more information on that election or candidate filing, call the city secretary's office, 281-652-1651.

The last day to register to vote in the May election is April 6, and early voting begins April 24.

State of the City set Feb. 9

In his 2022 State of the City address, Cole detailed the city council's strategic planning retreat held to set goals for the city. Those sessions resulted in a list of six strategic priorities as well as the tagline, "Pearland. The Community of Choice."

Master Naturalists learn about Karankawa Native People

By RICHARD SCHAFFHAUSEN
Special to the Reporter News

The Brazoria chapter of Texas Master Naturalist held their monthly meeting Wednesday morning Dec. 14 at the AgriLife building in Angleton.

This month's program was presented by Melanie Hollenshead whose topic was Karankawa Native People. Hollenshead stated the Karankawa occupied the Texas coast between the Brazos and Colorado River valleys from 5,000-4,000 BC to the mid 1800's when the last Karankawa died. Kawankawa, loosely defined, means dog lover, and were semi-nomadic, and hunters/gatherers. Five clans of Karankawa occupied their range and they established permanent settlements during the winter. More information about the Karankawa can be found at the Lake Jackson Natural Historical Museum, and the Brazosport Museum of Natural Science.

At the meeting, John Boettiger, membership, reported Lisabeth Martinez and Jerry Eppner had recertified. To recertify, members must have 8 hours of advanced training and 40 volunteer hours. 2022 intern graduate William Adriance received his initial certification pin by volunteering 40 hours. To date members have impacted 8,550 adults and 22,622 youth through outreach programs and educational programs such as the Birds of Prey programs presented at area schools and Brazoria County Summer Library Programs.

Mary Schwartz, New Class Director, presented Dennis Charleton and Doryce Stoltz their TMN shirts and badges for completing all the graduation requirements. Chapter members recognized Mary Schwartz, outgoing New Class Director, and welcomed Melanie Hollenshead as incoming New Class Director.

PJ Givens at Friendswood Junior High received $23,700 for a FJH Robotics Vex IQ Classroom.

Friendswood High School art teacher Mandy Harris received $13,994.65 for her FHS Ceramics program.

To make this possible, beginning this year, the Foundation is pulling three percent out of their endowment annually to fund Legacy Grants which go above and beyond the scope of their traditional Adopt-A-Grant program in size, scope and impact.

To invest in the future of FISD, community members can make a dedicated year-end, tax-deductible gift to the endowment by joining Century Club or making a general donation. Visit fef.myfisd.com/ways-to-give/century-club to learn more.

FAITH MATTERS

...because everyone believes in something!

By Rev. Dr. Brian Gige

IT'S IN EVERY ONE OF US

"My eyes stay open through the watches of the night, that I may meditate on your promises. 149 Hear my voice in accordance with your love; preserve my life, LORD, according to your laws." — Psalm 119:148-149

I'm not one who is big on new year's resolutions! How about you? In past years I failed miserably... making good on one or two of them for one or two weeks and then I end up re-evaluating the entire list for Lent and it's been at least 25 years since I've done that. In fact, when it comes to giving up anything for Lent, I have discovered my life was better when I added something to the details of my daily routine... something I didn't do or wasn't very good at and needed to re-orient some of my habits to hone the chippiness of my soul as I'm prone often to abandon the beaten and faithful path of God...

So... happy new year! What's in store for you? Have you thought about it? Have you asked others for some ideas and input when it comes to any kind of re-shaping of your heart and soul and mind...? Sometimes that's a good thing... especially from a trusted friend, a co-worker or a family member... recognizing it can also be a risky conversation as it just might mean embracing some major adjustment to a comfortable life-style already in place... as life... sometimes it seems... is like a 3000 piece jig-saw puzzle offering so much but difficult to finish if access to the picture on the box is denied. In the Letter to the Ephesians, though, we get a clue... For we are God's handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do" (Ephesians 2:10). Picture that.

Another way to think about this is from the chorus of a song written by David Pomeranz ... that song titled... "It's In Every One Of Us" and the chorus goes like this...

It's in every one of us to be wise

Find your heart

And open up both your eyes

We can all know every thing

*Without ever knowing why
It's in every one of us by and by
It's in every one of us by and by*

And isn't that a thing our world longs for these days? That each one of us make some attempt to be wise? To seek a posture requiring we open our hearts and our eyes to all which is around us and measured up by all that is within us as a gift of God? For decades now I have made the claim that we are all wonderfully and mysteriously connected to one another by the love and grace and purpose of God... as it's right there in every one of us and if I can recognize God's love and grace and purpose within me it doesn't take much of an effort to discover that same reality in you... and then when we do... something holy appears and we begin to experience what the angels sang to the shepherds that first Christmas... that we take part in the glory of God... and share in the peace on earth and good will to all... but as faith always matters... it will take an effort.

Howard Thurman (1899-1981), the African-American theologian understood this when in 1985 he penned, "The Work of Christmas" ...

*When the song of the angels is stilled,
When the star in the sky is gone,
When the kings and princes are home,
When the shepherds are back with their flock,
The work of Christmas begins:
To find the lost, to heal the broken,
To feed the hungry, to release the prisoner,
To rebuild the nations, to bring peace among brothers,
To make music in the heart.*

A blessed new year to all... it's in every one of us!

Red Cross issues call for volunteers

For those who made New Year's resolutions to meet new people and learn new skills, the American Red Cross Texas Gulf Coast Region has issued an invitation for a number of volunteer roles.

Training is free, and many volunteer roles require physical activity which benefits overall health, says Gulf Coast Region CEO Charles Blake Jr.

"Just imagine the impact you could make in 2023 by joining us as a volunteer," he said.

Available roles include blood donor ambassadors, who greet, register and support donors, and transportation specialists who help deliver blood from facilities to local hospitals.

Stop-Sale ordered at 2 gas stations

The Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation in December issued Stop-Sale Orders against two Houston-area gas stations for selling bad fuel.

The two stations - Sedona Food Mart on CR 94 in Manvel and Hush Food Mart on Old Spanish Trail in Houston - were ordered to stop selling premium and mid-grade fuel from any of their devices. Both stations can continue to sell regular-grade unleaded fuel, according to the agency.

At Hush Food Mart, 4303 Old Spanish Trail, "investigators found that the station is operating with unregistered devices and selling premium and mid-grade fuel that does not meet state-required quality standards," the TDLR states in a release.

At Sedona Food Mart, 4616 County Road 94, "investigators and lab results established that the facility is selling premium unleaded with 0.02 water and sediment percentage," the statement reads. "The maximum is 0.01."

While investigating a consumer complaint against the station, the release states, "a TDLR investigator found the fuel quality issue. Station owners continued selling the premium and mid-grade fuel after TDLR informed them that the fuel had quality issues." Mid-grade fuel is included in both Stop-Sale orders because mid-grade fuel is made by mixing premium fuel with regular unleaded.

Texas consumers who believed they have been sold bad motor fuel should file a complaint online at tdlr.texas.gov/FMQcomplaints/.

In The Garden by Karolyn Gephart

To Do List for Plants After the Freeze

It's January and a new year! Is gardening on your list of TO DO Resolutions?

Starting a new year with a garden in mind can make you not only follow your resolutions but also enjoy the results as well as the fun of watching things grow.

Sadly, we are seeing quite a bit of brown around us from the recent freeze.

Please heed the following advice regarding freeze damage.

Many of your plants are on the road to their own recovery but you must not prune them now. Pruning will happen after a few more weeks when the weather warms up for good and you can assess if the plants will return. Then damaged parts can be removed. What you can do is remove any areas of a plant that are really soft and mushy. Cut this off now.

Many remember how mushy so much of our plants were after the three day freeze in 2021. This freeze was not as long and you might not have any areas that feel that way but remove them if you do. To prune anything else will be too stressful on plants that are already stressed.

As you look around to evaluate the after effects of the freeze and you have any annuals in containers or in beds that have been affected, you can remove them completely. Annuals will not return as perennials do. Their lifespan is over (the freeze determined that). This is a great activity for many gardeners who cannot stand to just wait to determine damage. They want to do some cleaning and clearing out.

Getting annuals removed will make those gardeners feel like they have accomplished as much as they can.

Keep watering. Water helps plants recover faster and lessens stress on the plants. Much of their moisture in their tissues was removed when it froze. They need water now to rehydrate.

Remove all freeze coverings such as blankets and plastic wraps. You don't want bugs to be having parties under the covers and when the sun is out, the heat generated underneath can cause burning.

Do not fertilize. Plants cannot take this due to the state of shock they are still in from the cold. Plants need to regain their strength before they are encouraged to have new growth.

The most important tip is the hardest to do: be patient. Try not to dwell on the many shades of brown that used to be many shades of green with blooms.

This too shall pass. I know it is hard to do but instead, start planning what you want to have in your spring beds. Do you want to start transplants from seeds?

What plants will you put in what beds will help keep your mind and your eyes off brown dried areas and beds around your home.

Planning will make you a Yard of the Month home SOON! Keep that as your mantra.

Hsppy Gardening and Happy New Year!

Don't dwell on seeing brown everywhere you go. Be patient and give plants time to recover from the freeze.

GA-20 will perform along with Tyler Bryant & The Shakedown on Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the University of Houston-Clear Lake Bayou Theater.

Tyler Bryant & The Shakedown, GA-20 rock in 2023 at the Bayou Theater

The Bayou Theater at University of Houston-Clear Lake is rocking in the new year with a concert, featuring performances by Tyler Bryant & The Shakedown, and GA-20 on Jan. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

GA-20's guitarist Matt Stubbs said he and his bandmates, guitarist/vocalist Pat Faherty and drummer Tim Carman are kicking off their 2023 tour at the Bayou Theater for their new album, "Crackdown," which recently debuted at #1 on Billboard's Blues Albums chart. This is their third consecutive album to top that chart.

"My biggest influences in music were the blues musicians that grabbed me and made me love it, like Phoebe King, Otis Rush, Magic Sam, Earl Hooker and Johnny Guitar Watson," Stubbs said. "That's all I ever listened to when I was young. Now we play blues from the 50s and 60s, and rock is what came from that. When we play, it's pretty high energy. Our audience thinks it's rock, but to me, it's blues."

Stubbs added that GA-20 would play a combination of covers and original tracks during their performance at the Bayou Theater. "We want everyone to have a great time," he said. "When people hear the word 'blues' they think it'll be slow and depressing, but our show is the opposite. Some people who don't listen to blues will hear us and not even realize that's blues. People who are traditional rock and blues fans will enjoy it; but we hope to open some doors to others who have not yet heard it."

GA-20 received nominations for Boston Music Awards 2022 in the categories of Blues Artist of the Year and Album of the Year for "Crackdown."

Founded in Nashville, Tyler Bryant & The Shakedown has released four successful studio albums and has toured with Jeff Beck, ZZ Top, Aerosmith, AC/DC, and Lynyrd Skynyrd. Bryant, who put his first band together at age 15, performed around his hometown of Paris, Texas and then moved to Nashville to pursue a songwriting career. He met future bandmates Caleb Crosby and Calvin Webster while there, and together, they formed Tyler Bryant & The Shakedown.

Webster left the group and was replaced by Noah Denney. They appeared on Jimmy Kimmel Live! on Nov. 9, 2012 and released their first full-length album, "Wild Child," which received a positive review from Rolling Stone and Interview magazines.

From the Cluttered Desk

by Dr. David Davis

We need to be more kinder in 2023

When President George Bush was inaugurated as President of the United States... everyone waited to hear what kind of challenge he would give to the nation in his Presidential address. You know what he said? "The United States needs to be a kinder and more gentler nation."

That's the need for the United States today. That's the need for your home and your life. Could it be said about you that you are a kind and gentle person?

I like what the little girls prayed — "Dear Lord, Make all the bad people good and all the good people kind."

We have a lot of people who are good, but they have the need to learn how to be kind.

There is even a guy on Shark Tank, Daniel Lubetzky, who has a snack bar named KIND. Lubetzky was so committed to spreading kindness and giving back that he called the new brand KIND.

To be honest, America is an angry nation. With social media and the access to spew anger to the those who will listen - our first response to people is to be negative and hurtful through a text or other forms of social media platforms.

I began years ago deciding that I wasn't going to allow someone to ruin my day through negative interaction.

I realized that many of the people that cross our path in a negative way are people we will never see again. So why let them have their time to ruin your day?

Actually, we all do this on an occasional basis.

We go shopping and someone gets our parking spot. Instead of getting so worked up, go to another spot and say to yourself, "You are not going to ruin my day."

Get self out of the way and begin to think of how you might bring a smile to someone else.

One way I have been blessed is going through the drive-thru at Chick-fil-A and paying for the car behind me while telling the person at the drive-thru to tell the car behind me to "pass it on."

With 2023 underway, there are some other suggestions on how we can be a kinder and gentler nation and community.

Hold the door open for someone if they have their hands full. Or, even if they don't.

Let someone standing behind you in line at the grocery store go ahead if they have fewer items than you. Or, even if they don't.

Tell someone they look 10 years younger with their new hairdo. Even if they don't.

Never miss a chance to tell a kid you are proud of them when they accomplish something they've been working hard to achieve. Don't forget to do the same thing when they fail.

Give the man on the side of the road holding the sign that says he's hungry a few dollars if you can. He might be a scam artist, but you might also be the only reason he eats that day.

Let God sort it out. If you get scammed for doing the right thing, just know God is watching and giving you credit in the column side of kindness.

Send a note to a teacher or coach thanking them for loving your kid and wanting them to succeed almost as much as you do.

If a kid is selling something for school or for their youth sports team, buy it. If a kid is selling lemonade from a stand in their front yard, buy some. If a kid stops by your house and offers to do some work for a few dollars, find them some work.

And, don't forget to tell them you are proud of them.

Old friend Robert said, "Treat everyone with kindness, even those who are rude to you — not because they are nice, but because you are."

2022: A Year in Sports

By DR. DAVID DAVIS
Reporter News Staff

An old year came to an end in 2022 and a new year in 2023 is before us. Area high schools are hoping to see much success for the rest of the 2022-2023 school year in athletics.

It was an exciting year in 2022 for area high school sports with some schools making significant strides in their history.

FRIENDSWOOD MUSTANGS

In the Spring of 2022, two teams competed for the top prize in their respective sports. The Friendswood Lady Mustangs soccer team came close to perfection as they rolled into the Region III-5A tournament in Humble with a 25-1 record and an amazing 24 consecutive shutouts.

Friendswood survived having its shutout streak broken in the regional semifinals, moving past Pflugerville Hendrickson with a 3-2 victory, but the younger Lady Mustangs were unable to break through the defense against a senior-laden and physical Magnolia team, which ended Friendswood's run with a 1-0 win.

For Friendswood baseball, the trip to the state semifinals held at the Dell Diamond in Round Rock was the program's second-ever state appearance, but the Mustangs weren't satisfied with merely repeating history, as they defeated Mansfield Legacy 4-2 to make their first-ever appearance in the state championship game.

With pitching, defense and senior leadership providing a strong foundation throughout Friendswood's history-making baseball season, the Mustangs were ultimately edged 2-1 in the Class 5A state championship game against Georgetown.

The Friendswood swim teams also had a banner year while advancing to the state swim meet in Austin again while winning the District 20-5A swim title.

The Region 20-5A girls swim champion was decided on the final event of the day as Friendswood and A&M Consolidated battled in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

It would be the Lady Mustangs who would edge A&M Consolidated in the final event to claim the Region 20-5A crown. The Friendswood girls closed out the swim meet with 310 team points for the region title followed by A&M Consolidated (301.5 points).

Friendswood senior Camryn Peter (11) defends against Magnolia in the Class 5A Region III finals at Turner Stadium. The Lady Mustangs came up short 1-0 against the Lady Bulldogs. The No. 3 state-ranked Friendswood Lady Mustangs closed out the season with a sparkling 26-2 mark.

The Friendswood girls swim team concluded their outstanding swim season by placing third at the Class 5A state swim meet held at the Lee and Joe Jamail Swim Center on the University of Texas campus in Austin.

The girl's 200-free relay foursome won first place and are the new state champions in this event. Swimmers in this event were: Andi Jeanes, Peyton Becker, Abigail Nelson, and KK LeBlanc.

There were two medalists in individual events: Sophomore Tony Laurito placed first in the boy's 200-yard Individual Medley with a time of 1:49.62 and is the new state champion and freshman KK LeBlanc who placed second in the girl's 50-yard freestyle with a time of 23.20.

When the latest round of UIL realignments were rolled out in February, the most glaring change came in the district for Friendswood football.

In 2021, Friendswood began the season 0-4 and then reeled off six straight wins to tie for the District 10-5A Div. I title. They lost their first round playoff contest to finish 6-5.

However, the realignment in 2022 wasn't kind to the Mustangs as they entered a rugged district with powerhouses like Manvel, Angleton, Magnolia West, Fulshear and Richmond Foster.

Friendswood was unable to get into playoff

2022 Dawson Boys Basketball - District 23-6A Co-Champions

contention in the district of giants as they finished the 2022 football season with a 4-6 mark and remained at home for the post-season.

DAWSON EAGLES

The Dawson boys and girls were each crowned District 23-6A swim champions while Dawson swim coach Daniel Cox was named "Coach of the Year." The Dawson boys finished in first place with 140 points followed by Pearland (119), Strake Jesuit (82), and Shadow Creek (77). The Dawson girls finished in first place with 182 points followed by Pearland (128), Shadow Creek (127), and Alvin (42).

The Dawson boys basketball team finished the 2001-2022 season with an 11-1 district record to share the league championship with Shadow Creek (11-1). Dawson senior Tyree Davis was named "Offensive Most Valuable Player" while Dawson senior Hayden Windsor was named "Defensive Most Valuable Player."

For the fifth straight year, under the leadership of head coach Lauren Leth, the Dawson Lady Eagles have advanced to the 6A Region III volleyball tournament after Dawson swept the Summer Creek Lady Bulldogs in the region quarterfinals 25-13, 25-15, 25-23. The Lady Eagles lost to Cinco Ranch in the 6A Region III semifinals to finish 32-14.

The Dawson Eagles captured the PearBowl with a 21-14 win over the Pearland Oilers.

PEARLAND OILERS

Pearland basketball coach Steve Buckelew has been at the helm of the Oilers basketball program since 1995. The veteran coach picked up his 800th career win when Pearland beat Manvel 64-54 on November 26, 2022.

Pearland Mayor Kevin Cole and State Representative Ed Thompson presented coach Buckelew with a special proclamation and an American flag that flew over the state capitol in Austin.

In 2022, the Pearland Lady Oilers made their first regional basketball championship game appearance since 1991 under first-year head coach Jere' Adams, who guided the program to its 11th consecutive playoff berth.

Pearland shared the District 23-6A title with Shadow Creek and defeated Clear Springs, West Brook, North Shore and Seven Lakes in the first four rounds of the postseason.

"I feel like it was a special group, and the sky was the limit," Adams said. "I was just trying to get the next day as a first-year head coach. I'm not surprised to be here — I want to make that clear. Our girls deserved it and worked hard to get there."

The Lady Oilers fell to Summer Creek 59-42 to close out their season at 28-10.

The Pearland Lady Oilers soccer squad posted a 2-0 victory over Dawson to take the District 23-6A title for the second year in a row.

Pearland happily welcomed B.J. Gotte as the new head football coach. Gotte comes to Pearland a proven winner with a championship pedigree at Katy High School. He was a part of five state championships: three as an assistant coach and offensive coordinator at Katy (2003, 2012, 2015), one as offensive coordinator at La Marque (2006), and one as a head coach at Katy Paetow (2021). He played on the offensive line for the legendary Mike Johnston at Katy in the '90s, graduating in 1997.

New Pearland Oilers head football coach B.J. Gotte

The Oilers made the playoffs for the 23rd consecutive year, but more importantly, a new discipline and culture was brought back to Pearland that had been noticeably absent for the past four years. Pearland is back on track with a sense of great expectancy.

The Pearland Lady Oilers golf teams finished first and second to capture the District 23-6A championship and advance to the Class 6A Region III golf tournament.

The Pearland Lady Oilers captured the District 23-6A softball title and advanced to the 6A Region III finals before coming up short against the 6A defending state champions Deer Park. The Lady Oilers closed out with a 32-10 season record.

The Pearland Lady Oilers won the District 23-6A volleyball crown and advanced to the 6A Region III quarterfinals.

Houston Texans tight end OJ Howard puts up a 26 yard catch vs the Jacksonville Jaguars on Sunday. After a promising win the previous week the Texans struggled to move the ball and were defeated by Jacksonville 31-3 in the final home game of the season. The bright spot is the loss keeps the Texans in line for the first pick in the NFL Draft, with most analysts predicting it will be either Ohio State QB CJ Stroud or Alabama QB Bryce Young. The Texans finish off the season next week on the road vs the Indianapolis Colts.

Student uses personal experience with cancer to support sick kids, families

The field of pediatric psychology is very competitive. That's why when Megan Millmann found out that University of Houston-Clear Lake was creating a new doctoral program for pediatric psychologists and that some of the professors were doing the specific research she wanted to do, it was the perfect program for her. Millmann is receiving her Doctor of Psychology in Health Service Psychology from UH-Clear Lake this month, and she is currently completing a post-doctoral fellowship at Johns Hopkins All Children's Hospital in St. Petersburg, Florida. Her career path is more than just a choice—it's a calling. "I have chosen the field of pediatrics and I work only with kids in the context of medical conditions," Millmann said. Her somewhat uncommon specialty in hematology and oncology comes from what she calls a natural desire to search for meaning in difficult things.

Cancer can cause very specific kinds of physical and emotional distress to young patients. "Kids react to steroids and chemo," she said. "They are tired and scared and in pain. They don't want to eat, they sometimes don't want anyone to get near them. I'm helping kids cope with their anxiety, and giving their parents the tools as well. Parents need a lot of support because they don't want to tell their child they have cancer, or that they're dying."

"When I was 16, I was diagnosed with acute monoblastic leukemia, and I was in the hospital for eight months," she said. "Through that time, I noted a lack of psycho-social support. It's hard to go through hair loss and being away from home, school and friends for that long. I met a lot of kids who passed away. I was intrigued by all this, and I wanted to work with psychologists as soon as I graduated."

It's very taxing, emotionally difficult work, Millmann said. "I'm reminded every day how fragile life is. But my training at UHCL prepared more for this work, not only through the professors and the coursework, but also through all kinds of great practicum experience."

Now, she says she offers therapy and support to children and families who have a new cancer diagnosis, are in end-of-life stage, are anxious about procedures, medications, needles, surgery—anything in the context of navigating sickness and being hospitalized. "I got that illness for a reason," she said. "When you have something horrible happen, it's important to find a silver lining. I have book knowledge as well as personal experience with this, and because I have both I think I can thrive in this field."

Millmann completed a graduate assistantship at Dickinson Independent School District, and completed other practicums at Psychological Services on the UHCL campus, as well as The Shriners Children's Texas Hospital in Galveston, and Texas Children's Hospital in the Houston Medical Center. "I had great supervisors, advisors and professors, and I got to participate in research along with my actual clinical experience," she said. "I feel like I got everything I need. I feel very well prepared to start my career in this field."

She said she loved working with providers, helping medical professionals navigate patients who are acting out behaviorally due to a multitude of factors.
